Prostate Cancer Biopsies - The Great Debate

AUG 29, 2022

8:00 - 9:30 pm ET

Join us for a hot topic for any patient facing one or more prostate biopsies.

The debate will focus on whether transrectal biopsies or transperineal biopsies are better for patients.

Don't know the difference? No problem, this webinar will give lots of food for thought, and plenty to take back to the doctor's office with you!

Deborah Kaye, MD, Assistant Professor Duke University Division of Urology and Duke Clinical Research Institute Margolis Policy Center, will argue for transrectal biopsies.

Arvin George, MD, a urologic surgeon specializing in the diagnosis and management of genitourinary cancers at University of Michigan Health, will argue for transperineal procedures.

Questions can be submitted ahead of time to joeg@ancan.org
